

HOLD 2 CHARGED WITH KIDNAPING

Mexicans Said to Have Taken Part in Abduction of Douglas Justice Are Arrested

Facing punishment by death, if found guilty, Gabriel Cons, manager of the Fronterizo hotel at Nogales, Sonora, and Manuel Alcoverde, have been arrested in Nogales, Sonora, and are now being held in solitary confinement at the jail in that city, pending trial on a charge of kidnaping, growing out of the trial of W. H. Smith in Nogales, Arizona, last week.

Cons is manager of the hotel where Justice of the Peace William C. Jack, of Douglas, and C. P. Edison of Beeville, Texas, were taken after being kidnaped from Nogales, Arizona, to Nogales, Sonora, Jack and Edison having come to Nogales to be character witnesses for the state in the Smith trial.

Smith, who was former city clerk of Nogales, was found guilty of embezzling city funds, and is now in the Nogales, Arizona, jail awaiting sentence.

According to statements made by Jack and Edison, Smith took part in the kidnaping, which included taking the two men to Nogales, Sonora, and placing them under guard in the Fronterizo hotel, where Jack was kept two days and one night, and Edison was kept two days and two nights until rescued by American and Mexican officials.

One Guard Escapes
Alcoverde was one of two Mexican guards who watched over Jack and Edison, the other guard, Augustine Jaramillo, escaping.

A frontier model 38 single action Colt revolver was taken from Alcoverde.

Complaint, charging kidnaping, was filed by the president of Nogales, Sonora, on November 18. Chief of Police Jay Lowe of Nogales, Arizona, and Mr. Edison, one of the kidnaped witnesses, conferred with the Mexican officials.

Judge Carlos Ainslie, of the First instance which is similar to the office of justice in Arizona, ordered that Cons and Alcoverde be held in solitary confinement, pending trial. He said that the maximum punishment for kidnaping, under the laws of Mexico, is death, and the minimum three years imprisonment.

The date of the trial of the two men has not been set. Judge Ainslie said today that he would like to have a further conference with Chief Lowe and Edison.

American Consul F. J. Dyer of Nogales, Sonora, is pressing for prosecution of the two men by Mexican authorities.

Cananea Is Again Scene of Robbery; Bandits Captured

According to parties in the city yesterday from Cananea there was another attempted robbery in that city last Tuesday. Two Mexicans hired a jitney driver to take them out from Cananea to a camp out about five miles. When they had gone about three miles south from Cananea they held up the driver, relieved him of his money, beat him, threw him out of the car and took the car.

The driver was picked up shortly after the robbers had left with the car and went back to Cananea where he reported the matter. Officers who gave chase in another car and overtook the two men about eight miles from Naco. The gasoline had given out in the car they had stolen and they were caught by the officers.

They were taken back to Cananea where they will be given a hearing. It is the opinion of the officers that they are not the men who recently held up the paymaster.

Many of the Mexican population of Tombstone visited him while here and through his "magic healing" claim to have been benefited, one case particularly being a blind girl who claims her sight was completely restored through his "healings."

Making Inspection Tour

DOUGLAS — Walter Douglas, president of the Phelps Dodge corporation, and several prominent railroad officials arrived in Douglas early Thursday morning and departed immediately for Naco on an inspection trip of the company's property there. They are expected to return to Douglas within the next two days and go to Bisbee, which will complete the inspection tour started several days ago. Douglas refused to make any statement regarding the future plans of the company. He may return to Douglas after completing the tour of inspection with a more clear idea of what his company plans to do, but said he would not promise to make any definite statement.

City Will Try to Recover Road Tax Funds Paid County

The city council was in session last night and transacted considerable business. Members Warren, Reed, Rosick, Carretto and Beaton were present with the mayor.

The bid of a Los Angeles firm to furnish a 125-gallon pump for the city well in Tombstone Canyon was accepted. The pump will be shipped at once and will be ready for operation in about six weeks.

The question of the road taxes that have been paid by the residents of the city to the county was taken up and an effort will be made to recover the money from the county by having each individual execute an affidavit stating that he resides in the city limits and asking for a refund of the money so that he can pay the city tax instead. In this connection the city marshal was instructed to collect the street tax from all those who had not paid it this year.

The question of closing up cigar and soft drink stands was up for some discussion. It was the opinion of the council that these places be allowed to remain open after one o'clock with the understanding that the pool tables and tables and everything else except the lunch counter and cigar stands be closed.

A number of matters concerning streets and trails in the city were up for discussion and were referred to the street committee for action.

FORMER CITY CLERK IS MADE DEFENDANT IN FOUR CIVIL SUITS

NOGALES, Ariz., Nov. 25. — W. H. Smith, former city clerk here, who was convicted in the superior court here last Saturday of embezzlement, today was made defendant in four civil suits. Three of the suits were filed by the Halstead Lumber company of Phoenix, while the fourth was filed by Joe Wise of Nogales. All are for the collection of debts Smith is alleged to owe.

The suits filed by the lumber company were tried in the superior court here this afternoon and judgment rendered in favor of the company. The suit filed by Wise will be heard Monday before Judge S. L. Pattee, of Tucson.

Cornell as acting manager of the 11th district, according to a telegram received by the headquarters of the Colorado-Wyoming division of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

3 ARE HELD FOR U. S. GRAND JURY

Commissioner Orders Release Warren Man Who Proves Innocence at Hearing

Joe Pecanic, Joe Kurach and John Kasum were yesterday bound over to await the action of the federal grand jury in Tucson after being given a preliminary hearing before U. S. Commissioner James Allison. All furnished bond in the sum of $1,000 each.

In the case of Charles McCray, after hearing the testimony the commissioner ordered his release. The testimony showed that Prohibition Officer Monroy had a warrant to search the house of a man named Dennison, in Warren. When the officers went to the house they found that McCray and his wife were occupying the upper portion of the house and that he had no access to the lower portion of the house where officers found several barrels of mash, some of which had been run through the still and one barrel already run through, and a still without the coil.

They asked McCray if he had any liquor in his part of the house and he told them that there were four pint bottles in the ice box when he moved in two weeks before and that he had not touched them. The officers took them.

McCray stated that he had come to Bisbee about two weeks ago from Colorado to join his wife, who had arrived a week ahead of him, and that his wife had been left in charge of the Dennison house while the owners were gone. The commissioner was of the opinion that McCray was innocent and gave him the benefit of the doubt.

Prohibition Officer Monroy and Deputy Sheriffs Gipson, Kenney and LaMore testified, in each instance against the three men, just what they found in each house as it was searched under the search warrant that they had procured.

Pastor Speaks on 'Bargain Counter' at Gospel Meeting

In presenting the subject, "The Bargain Counter of Life," to the young people at the Woman's Club building last Friday night, Elder E. R. Davis said that the young people of the nation stand at the bargain counter of life. There are two parties at this bargain counter, said the pastor, ready to transact business with them: the Prince of Life and the Prince of the World. Both parties have their goods on the bargain counter ready for inspection and purchase, each making a strong appeal on behalf of the goods he has to offer, he said.

The main question, said the speaker, is: "Which of these appeals will gain your patronage?" By purchasing the goods offered by the Prince of Life, we gain the friendship of God, and a title to an inheritance, called the Eternal Life. By purchasing from the Prince of the World we gain the friendship of the world and the enmity of God. Those who buy of the Prince of the World, really sell themselves and make a poor investment.

The speaker also spoke of the dress problem that is disturbing the minds of the authorities of some high schools and colleges. Movements are being started to place restrictions on extravagance in dress which is causing many worthy young people to leave school, said Pastor Davis, because they are financially unable to keep pace with the modern dress fad.
